To whom it may concern,

Hello! My name is Caesar Rubio and I'm a very motivated and hardworking individual that aspires to increase my skills in web design! I'm seeking a position which focuses on creating websites via pre-made/purchased themes or self-created themes (although I'm in process of learning how to achieve this result). Currently, I have created multiple sites on my own almost all using WordPress. I can install templates and create pages/posts as well as install various plugins. I can also add social profiles, contact forms, embed audio/video files and create WooCommerce products. I have learned the fundamentals of HTML and CSS via SoloLearn (I have certificates attached on my resume) so I can use this knowledge for better results. Overviews and links to these sites can be viewed on my portfolio site and resume.

I'm very hard working. I know that my skills will improve and I'm very eager to acquire a career in web design.

Please allow me to show you how hardworking I am.

I am confident in my growing abilities to contribute to your talented team and anything I'm a part of. Thank you for taking the time to consider me for employment. Don't hesitate to contact me regarding any questions you may have.

Sincerely,

Caesar Rubio

Caesar Rubio
